

There are different ways you can get help with your investments. You should carefully consider which types of accounts and services are right for you. This document provides a summary of the types of services we provide and how you will pay for them. Please feel free to reach out to us for additional information. Questions you might consider asking us are noted (→) throughout this Summary.

Introduction

Hutchinson & Ziegler Financial Advisors is an SEC registered investment adviser that has provided investment management services to retail investors since 2003. We do not provide services as a broker-dealer. There are differences between investment advisers and broker-dealers, and it is important for you to understand them as you decide what kind of account is right for you. You can learn more about the differences between investment advisers and broker-dealers at the websites provided by the SEC like <https://www.investor.gov> and <https://www.investor.gov/crs>.

What Investment Services and Advice Can You Provide Me?

Our investment management services include the development of a client-tailored investment strategy, presentation and implementation of investment recommendations, and ongoing supervision and management of client investment assets. While we do not provide tax preparation or legal services, other services include tax-related management and reporting, periodic rebalancing, semi-annual and annual reviews with clients, quarterly newsletter and periodic market commentary and annual performance reporting. Our services are provided on a "discretionary" basis that authorizes us to trade without your prior approval of each trade.

Our Firm does not impose a minimum account size requirement. However, we do assess a minimum annual fee of $35,000. This minimum fee is negotiable for those clients with less than $5 million under management.

In addition to investment management services, we provide financial planning services, which may include goal-based planning, cash-flow management, and general advice regarding mortgages, insurance, estate plan review, tax planning, etc. Planning services are typically offered to investment management clients at no additional charge. We may offer stand-alone planning services charged at an hourly rate pursuant to a separate financial planning agreement.

We follow an internal Code of Ethics to which all our personnel must adhere when providing services, and we fully disclose and endeavor to minimize any conflicts of interest that arise between your interests and those of our Firm.

Additional detail about our services is provided in our Form ADV Part 2A at Item 4.

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service and why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications?
- What do your professional qualifications mean?

What Fees Will I Pay?

These are the principal types of fees you will pay to us in connection with our services:

- Asset-Based Fees: Investment management fees charged as a percentage of the value of the assets under our management. These are paid quarterly.
- Hourly Fees: We occasionally provide stand-alone financial planning services without an ongoing investment advisory relationship; hourly fees are paid at the time the services are provided.

Our fees are negotiable and may vary amongst clients.

Other fees & costs you will pay to others in relation to your investments include:

- Custodian fees. If charged, these are paid to your custodian directly, on an annual or a monthly basis.
- Maintenance fees. If charged, these are paid to your custodian directly.

- Transactional and product-level fees (commissions). If charged, these are paid to your executing broker-dealer directly, at the time of each transaction.
- Fees related to Funds and Annuities. Mutual funds, exchange traded funds (ETFs), hedge funds, and variable annuity products may impose ongoing management fees, administrative fees and redemption or surrender fees. These are paid to the issuer of the fund or ETF or the insurer that issues the annuity directly.

The fee any investment adviser charges reduces the value of your account when it is deducted each billing period. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. You will pay the asset-based fee each period even if no securities are bought or sold in your account. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. More detail about our fees is in our Form ADV Part 2A, Item 5.

What Are Your Legal Obligations to Me When Acting as My Investment Adviser?

We have adopted an internal Code of Ethics. When we act as your investment adviser, we must act in your best interest and not put our interests ahead of yours. Where the interests of our Firm or staff conflict with our duties to you, we must work to eliminate the conflict or tell you about it in clear terms. You should understand these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you.

How Else Does Your Firm Make Money and What Conflicts of Interest Do You Have?

Here are examples to help you understand what this means:

- We charge fees for our services and the more assets there are in your account, the more you pay to us in fees. We therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account.
- We may recommend that you rollover a 401K retirement account to an IRA account managed by our Firm because this would increase the amount of assets under our management.
- We may advise you to invest in stocks, mutual funds, bonds rather than non-managed assets because the investments increase the amount of assets under our management.
- We advise you to custody your investment accounts with Charles Schwab because it provides us with essential trading, reporting, compliance, education and back office services and investment research.
- Our employees personally invest in the same, or different securities based upon their personal financial situations and their investments may perform as well as, better or worse than our clients' investments.

How Do Your Financial Professionals Make Money?

Our financial professionals are paid a salary based upon their education, professional training, work background and the level of skill, sophistication and dedication they exhibit in conducting their work for the Firm. Financial professionals who are owners of the business share in the profits of the business. Non-owner financial professionals receive salaries and are entitled to participate in the Firm's bonus program in years in which bonuses are awarded.
